CALL FOR PAPERS

RUNDU CAMPUS HARAMBEE INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH CONFERENCE, 2024

Theme: "Resilient Systems for Sustainable Economic Transformation"

DATE: 20 - 21 November 2024 Venue: Auditorium, K. E. Regional Council, Rundu, Namibia

The University of Namibia (UNAM) recognizes the importance of research in creating and disseminating new knowledge to address societal challenges. UNAM supports research that positively impacts people's lives. The Faculty of Commerce, Management, and Law will host the Harambee International Research Conference in October 2024 at the Rundu Campus.

This conference honors the legacy of the late President Dr. Hage G. Geingob, emphasizing strong institutions and sustainable economic transformation. Weak institutions in developing countries hinder progress, leading to poor public service delivery and corruption.

Dr. Geingob's vision aimed to strengthen institutions, promote transparency, and enhance global participation. Hence the need for a convergence of great minds of policy makers, academics, practitioners to showcase evidence-driven approaches to strengthening of institutions, particularly in the Global South.

The conference sub themes:

1. Food security
2. Public management systems
3. Development financing
4. Public resources management
5. Human capital development
6. Digital economy
7. Green economy
8. Sustainable tourism
9. Corporate governance

10. Environmental, social & governance (ESG) reporting
11. Financial system resilience
